Salinger Expected To Run For Seat In U.S. Senate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger flew into his home town today after resigning as President Johnson's press secretary. He apparently will run for the U.S. Senate.

Salinger would not say what his plans are, but said he would hold a news conference later today to announce whether he will seek the Senate seat of ailing California Democrat Clair Engle.

Salinger's candidacy could further complicate the controversial Senate race which has already split the party. But, the big question was whether he's eligible to enter the June 2 California primary.

Salinger apparently was armed with legal advice that he could seek the nomination.

Engle underwent brain surgery last August, but he has filed for re-election in the face of assertions by state Democratic leaders that he's too ill to campaign.

The U.S. Constitution requires only that a senator be 30 years of age and an inhabitant of the state.

Some election experts seemed to think that Salinger, 38, former San Francisco newspaper reporter, could qualify if he's primed to get his nomination papers in on time. The deadline is 5 p.m. today.

Others weren't so sure because he let his California residence lapse when he left for jobs that led to his post as press advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy and then President Johnson.

Democratic leaders expressed surprise over reports of Salinger's decision to jump into a political contest in a state where he once worked the hinterlands for other candidates.

Most of them, from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, on down, already have committed themselves for Engle or his chief opponent, State Controller Alan Cranston.

Brown, who has endorsed Cranston, remained silent on the possible entry of Salinger, who helped out in one of the governor's earlier campaigns. His office said he'll wait until Salinger formally indicates his plans.

Reedy Named White House Press Chief

Salinger Resigns; Hatcher, His Aide, Also Quits Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Reedy is a friendly, pipe puffing giant of a man who is taking on the almost impossible task of trying to keep both the press and President happy about public relations.

Sunny, cigar-smoking Pierre Salinger suddenly quit this job of White House press secretary Thursday to try for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in California.

With him went Andrew T. Hatcher, the assistant press secretary to the President and one of the highest ranking Negroes in government.

For Reedy there is nothing like the break with the past that there is for Salinger. Reedy has been at President Johnson's elbow as a sort of press attache the better part of 13 years.

Around the White House he has been one of the Johnson handy men with no clear-cut title. Now he has a title and one of the roughest, most responsible publicity jobs on earth. At times his voice will be the voice of the nation on foreign and domestic policy.

But since he has been so close to Johnson so long, Reedy at

Ohio Woman Set For 2nd Leg Of Flight

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Mrs. Jerrie Mock, mother of three from Columbus, Ohio, planned to head her small plane for the Azores today "depending on the winds."

Another air-minded housewife setting out on a solo flight around the world, Joan Merriam Smith of Long Beach, Calif., hopes to take off Saturday from Miami for San Juan, P. R.

Both deny they are racing to become the first woman to fly around the world alone. Amelia Earhart was lost attempting the feat in 1937.

Mrs. Mock 38-year-old wife of a Columbus advertising man, landed her single-engine propeller plane in Hamilton an hour ahead of schedule on the first leg of her 24,000-mile global flight.

"I picked up a tailwind," she told newcomers.

She plans to be back in Columbus in 30 days or less after stops in the Azores, Casablanca, Tunis, Cairo, Bahrain Island, Karachi, Bombay, Madras, Singapore, Manila, Guam, Wake, Honolulu and San Francisco.

Mrs. Smith's landing in Miami—after changing clothes in the air for fear she would be late for a luncheon—was her third stop on a 27,000-mile course.

The 27-year-old blonde test pilot, flying a secondhand twin-engine plane, plans to land in Puerto Rico, Surinam and Brazil before setting out across the Atlantic for Senegal on the African coast next Wednesday. She hopes to finish the flight in Oakland, Calif., April 14.

She is the wife of Navy officer Martin Smith, commander of the minesweeper Endurance, now at Yokosuka, Japan.

Jailed Driver Due In Court On Point Case

Already serving a six-month County Jail term on a charge of driving while intoxicated, a 37-year-old East Liverpool man is due to be brought before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Thursday at 10 a. m. to show cause why his driver's license should not be revoked under Ohio's 12-point "demerit" system.

William Howard Compas, 1108 Riverview St., has received notice of the hearing by registered mail in his cell at Lisbon, where he is serving a penalty imposed by the judge on Feb. 20.

In addition to the six-month jail term, Compas was fined $300 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

A conviction of bond forfeiture for drunken driving accounts for six "points" under the Ohio law. The first such charge against Compas was heard May 14, 1962, also in Municipal Court, according to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

As a first offender under the Ohio law, Compas is liable to a six-month suspension of his permit, which apparently would run concurrently with the three-year suspension previously ordered by Judge Chertoff.

Court attaches said deputies of Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan are expected to bring Compas to court for the hearing, then return him to the jail.

On the second occasion a motorist is cited under the "point" law, regulations call for a one-year suspension. In the third case, his permit may be lifted for three years. The fourth citation calls for a five-year suspension.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw will represent the state at the hearing here. Until last year, all the "point" cases were heard in Common Pleas Court. The State Legislature amended the law to certify the cases to municipal courts and county courts.

Compas's hearing was set up after his "point" record was certified to the court by Dave Mainwaring, registrar of the BMV. In addition to the suspension, he is liable for the costs in the case.

Applications Continue On Hancock Flood Aid

Miss Loraine Houland of Toledo, representing the National Red Cross, continued to receive applications for rehabilitation today from families whose homes and belongings were damaged in last week's flood in Hancock County.

She will be on duty at the Courthouse in New Cumberland until 4 this afternoon, and at Congo near Newell Saturday afternoon at 2.

Mrs. Ruth Sprouse of the North Hancock County Chapter said 28 applications have been received thus far for aid. Volunteers from Red Cross chapters in East Liverpool and North Hancock are aiding Miss Houland at the Courthouse, she said.

Latin States Would Okay DeGaulle Bid

Welcome Indicated By Survey Taken In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virtually all the Latin-American countries would welcome a visit by France's President Charles de Gaulle, a survey of the Latin American embassies here showed today.

In fact, some of the American republics seem to regard such a visit as the new hemispheric status symbol.

"If De Gaulle goes to a particular country it has to mean enough for him to come from Paris to visit," was the way one Latin American diplomat put it.

While questions have arisen over U.S. policy toward Latin America, De Gaulle has invited Latin America in simple terms to join France "hand in hand" toward a world undergoing a "complete transformation."

His visit to Mexico has been impressive.

Now the French leader has chosen September — the southern hemisphere's spring — for a visit the countries which, with Mexico, are among the leaders of Latin America: Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and Peru.

"We will be glad to have this formidable leader of France," a Peruvian diplomat said. He recalled that Peru's cultural bonds with France have been close and that President Fernando Belaunde attended school in Paris.

The Latin American countries not yet on De Gaulle's visiting list are almost scrambling to get on it.

From the embassy of Panama with which the United States is currently at odds over the Panama Canal treaty, came this remark by an official: "De Gaulle absolutely must come to Panama. His Panamanian welcome would be ecstatic."

Newspapers and the government in El Salvador, according to reports reaching here, decided to play down accounts of the De Gaulle visit to Mexico when informed the French leader was unable to visit Central America for the time being.

Bar Attendant Fined On After-Hours Sale

Summoned to the Cactus Bar on Route 30 near Chester to investigate a report of a fight, Hancock County sheriff's deputies nabbed an employee on a violation of state beer laws early today.

Phillip Leydecker, 38, of Route 30, Chester was fined $50 and costs after pleading guilty to dispensing beer after hours. The hearing was held at 2:30 a. m. today at the Pughstown home of Squire John D. Herron, whose office is in New Cumberland.

Deputies John Roefaro and Nicholas Muscara were dispatched to the tavern to investigate reports of a fight, however none was in progress when they arrived. But the two officers spotted the violation and arrested Leydecker.

Rusk Seems Likely To Keep Post

After Elections, Secretary's Move Called Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Rusk seems likely to stay on as secretary of state through the November elections, but what will happen after that is uncertain.

Sources close to Rusk said he has given no thought to resigning now.

And they pointed out that it is up to the voters in November to name the next president, and it will then be up to the chief executive — whether President Johnson or someone else — to select his Cabinet.

Pending these decisions, they said, Rusk can hardly say that he will be staying on for another four years.

The American Broadcasting Co., which said Thursday that Rusk would step down after the elections, also reported that Pierre Salinger planned to resign as White House news secretary.

He did, and his top assistant, Andrew T. Hatcher, also quit.

Rusk, in Salt Lake City for a speech, told newsmen: "The day after President Kennedy died, President Johnson asked me to stay on. I am at his disposal. I have no plans to resign at all. The President and I haven't discussed the matter."

In Washington a State Department spokesman promptly denied that Rusk plans to resign. Even if he plans to, a denial would be expected at the State Department because a secretary of state's influence with foreign leaders would tumble fast if they thought he was on his way out.

Ever since Kennedy installed Rusk, now 55, in the foreign affairs post when the Democrats took over in 1961, there have been periodic reports that Rusk was about to leave the job. The reports have not seemed to bother him.

Sometimes the reports came from speculation concerning foreign affairs difficulties or differences among high administration officials. Other reports have noted that Rusk has little or no independent income for a job that can cost him substantial sums out of pocket.

New Religious Rioting Breaks Out In India

NEW DELHI (AP) — A new outbreak of religious rioting was reported today in central India, raising the threat of new large-scale battles between Hindus and Moslems.

Seven Moslems were reported killed and several injured in Raigarh, a jute mill town in Madhya Pradesh State.

Arson and rioting were reported in three other towns in the state. There was no indication what caused the trouble.

About 20 Moslems were killed Monday night in rioting in Calcutta, on India's east coast, and other parts of the nation reported unrest.

Boy, 15, Held After Pursuit In Car Theft

Wellsville Officer Arrests Youth As He Flees On Foot

A 15-year-old Beaver County boy who authorities said was driving a car for the first time fled local law officers on a merry chase early Thursday night between Lisbon and Wellsville before his capture on foot by an alert Wellsville patrolman.

The office of Sheriff Russell VanFossan in Lisbon said the episode began when a deputy approached a parked car near a Lisbon church and the young driver took off on foot in the darkness.

VanFossan, checking the area later, spotted a 1959 convertible and gave pursuit in following up suspicions that the driver might have been the boy who abandoned a car at Lisbon.

But the auto eluded the sheriff in a chase on Route 30. Meanwhile, Wellsville Patrolman Frank Daniels had been following the account of the sheriff's chase on radio and the officer noted a description of the car.

While parked at Mason's Foodliner on Wells Ave., a short time later, Patrolman Daniels spotted the car answering the description furnished by the sheriff and gave chase.

The young driver raced to McDonald Heights and on the way struck the car of Grace McDevitt, 613 Broadway, Wellsville police reported. The youngster then abandoned the car and fled on foot.

Patrolman Daniels fired a warning shot in the air and the youngster surrendered. He was taken to Lisbon and is being held in custody today by the sheriff's office.

VanFossan's office said the youngster was driving a car stolen from Gertrude Ketchum of Lisbon R. D. 1. Deputies

Glenn Intends To Make Ohio Political Bid

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., recovering here from a brain concussion, still "has every intention" of making his campaign for the U. S. Senate in Ohio, his doctor says.

It will be a week or 10 days before a decision is made on just when Glenn will be able to campaign, said Dr. Earl W. Brannon at an Air Force hospital.

He said it could be a week or two later than Glenn's April 1 deadline for himself.

Dr. Brannon said "progress is slower than we anticipated" but Glenn "has not thrown in the towel and neither have we."

He said the former astronaut improves daily, although still suffering from dizziness when he is up for extended periods.

The doctor's statement was a denial of publishes reports quoting him as saying "there certainly is a chance that Glenn won't be able" to make the Ohio campaign.

Plans Are Complete For Mrs. Glenn's Tea

Plans have been completed for a public tea Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m. honoring Mrs. John H. Glenn Jr. and Mrs. Scott Carpenter, Democratic executive officers said today. It will be held at the Travelers Hotel.

The astronauts' wives are on an Eastern Ohio swing on behalf of Col. Glenn's candidacy for the U. S. Senate nomination while he awaits release from the Marine Corps and recovers from a head injury.

The executive officers include Don R. Gosney, county chairman; Mrs. Iris Applegate of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, and Atty. Paul Tobin of East Liverpool and Guy Mauro of Salem, vice chairmen.

County Driver Dies As Truck Hits His Auto

Semi-Trailer Hits Columbiana Man's Car On Route 14

County's 1964 Traffic Toll 6 KILLED This date in 1963—4 killed! LOWER THE SCORE IN '64

A 59-year-old Columbiana area man was killed Thursday afternoon when his car was struck by a semi-trailer on Route 14 with an impact that hurled him from the auto and tore the front wheels off the truck.

John H. Dishong of Columbiana R. D. 1 was pronounced dead at Salem City Hospital shortly after the crash at the intersection with Route 46 at 2:50 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Mr. Dishong was headed north on Route 46 and apparently pulled out into the path of the east-bound rig driven by Roy Custer, 31, of East Palestine R. D. 1.

Officers said the truck hit the car, knocking it off the roadway onto the south berm. The front wheels of the tractor were knocked loose, and rolled down the highway and off, hitting a parked truck owned by Hyde Keylor of Columbiana R. D. 2.

Mr. Dishong was thrown from the car to the pavement. He suffered a crushed chest and back and internal injuries. Custer was treated at the hospital.

Officials Push Probe Into Hancock Robbery

Officers investigating the armed robbery at a Weirton area man's home Tuesday night are working on several leads and checking out information furnished by volunteers, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported today.

West Virginia State Police and the Wheeling office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are aiding in the investigation of the robbery of John N. Exarhos, 61, of State Route 2, north of Weirton.

Four masked gunmen entered his home, bound Exarhos and a woman companion with lamp cords, and made off with $15,000 in cash from a safe in his garage plus wrist watches and a few rings.

Deputies said two Ohio licenses plates stolen from the car of a Steubenville motorist in Weirton Tuesday night have not been found. It is assumed the four thugs stole the plates for their getaway car.

Pact Signed By Foreman As Lawyer

Succeeds Belli; Motion For New Trial Due Today

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's new attorney is confident his client will be granted a new trial and will escape death in Texas' electric chair.

Percy Foreman, president of the National Association of Defense Attorneys and probably the best known criminal lawyer in Texas, agreed Thursday to succeed Melvin M. Belli as Ruby's chief counsel.

A Dallas jury sentenced Ruby to death Saturday for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, last Nov. 22.

Foreman, who has handled more than 700 capital offense cases and lost only one defendant to the electric chair, was hired by three brothers and a sister of Ruby hours after they fired Belli, a famous California attorney.

One of the remaining Ruby attorneys, Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., said he would file a motion for a new trial in Judge Joe B. Brown's court today although Foreman has not said who his assistants will be.

Foreman said he signed a contract with Eileen Kaminsky, a sister of Ruby, and with three of Ruby's brothers, Hyman Rubenstein, Chicago, Earl Ruby, Southfield, Mich., and Sam Ruby, Dallas. The four drove from Dallas to Houston to see Foreman.

The family said Belli was fired by special delivery letter, signed by Jack Ruby and another sister, Eva Grant of Dallas, and mailed Wednesday night.

Belli, arriving at his San Francisco home Thursday night, said he will meet newsmen at his office at 10 a.m. today to make a statement.

"If we are successful in getting a reversal of this case and a new trial, I don't think Mr. Ruby will ever be executed," Foreman, 61, told newsmen.

The family said Foreman, a 210-pounder who stands 6-4, was their choice as chief attorney all along. They said they hired Belli after a go-between who approached Foreman crossed them up.

The Hancock County Planning Commission approved a motion submitted by Miss Callie Tsapis that it explore possibilities of hiring a full-time planning expert at a meeting Thursday night in the Courthouse.

Soviet Police Nip Moroccan Students In Embassy Sit-In MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet police hauled protesting Moroccan students out of Morocco's Embassy in Moscow during the night after pleading failed to budge them.

The students, about 50 strong, were taken back to their dormitories in buses about eight hours short of their goal of a 24-hour sit-in.

The students occupied the embassy at 10 a.m. Thursday to protest against death sentences ordered in Rabat for 11 persons convicted of plotting to assassinate Morocco's King Hassan II. There was no violence as the demonstrators streamed into the embassy offices, seated themselves on the floor with arms linked and announced they would resist any attempt to oust them.

Soviet authorities did not intervene at first, since by diplomatic tradition the embassy of a country is its own soil.

There the students sat as the hours passed, refusing to eat, singing Arabic songs occasionally and posing for news photographers.

They turned a deaf ear to harried junior embassy officers who urged them to leave. The ambassador was out of town.

Shortly after dark, three officials of the Soviet Ministry of Education arrived and appealed to the demonstrators to leave.

The students refused. The Soviets threatened further measures.

A student leader said the Soviet officials told them the Moroccan government had asked the Soviet ambassador in Rabat to have something done.

Three buses loaded with police wheeled up outside the embassy about 1:30 a.m. and cordoned off nearby streets. When several ranking officers had no better luck with the students than the others, police moved in and carried the Moroccans away.

An embassy spokesman said they went voluntarily. One student said they put up some physical resistance.

Three Storms Rip Different Areas Of U.S.

By The Associated Press
Three storms pounded different sections of the nation with destructive winds, snow and rainstorms as spring came today after renegade tornadoes ended the winter season with a king-sized punch at Texas. Spring officially began at 9:10 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

Tornadoes and strong winds whipped along the Texas coast Thursday, causing an estimated $500,000 damage in Baytown and injuring at least 12 persons in Nederland.

A disturbance in eastern Kansas cast a winter scene over most of the central and northern Plains and in the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Blizzard conditions occurred from eastern Colorado and western Kansas through Minnesota and the eastern Dakotas. One to three - inch snowfalls were blown and drifted by 50 mile per hour winds with gusts up to 60 m.p.h. in northwestern Kansas, reducing visibility to one-half block.

A storm centered in northeastern Arkansas produced rain from Missouri and central Illinois through Kentucky and Tennessee.

Rain fell from Alabama and northern Florida into the Carolinas.

Swimmer Was Once Afraid Of The Water

DENVER — For a man who used to be afraid of water and didn't learn to swim until he was middle-aged, Dr. Harry V. Bigelow has come a long way — and swum a long way.

The local osteopath launched a learn-to-swim crash program in 1949 at the Denver Athletic Club swimming pool. "I decided to learn to swim or drown," he recalls. It took him two years before he could swim the length of the pool.

But once past that point he made up for lost time. Swimming for an hour every weekday at noon, he has amassed a total of 2,040 miles in the Athletic Club pool, or more than the distance from Denver to New York. On his semi-annual vacations he goes to Hawaii, Jamaica, Mazatlan, Mexico and Las Vegas to swim, but that doesn't go on his official record.

times may find that the boss is going to be his own press secretary.

Like Salinger, Reedy is a former newspaperman. At 46, he is eight years older.

Like Salinger, Reedy enjoys good food and, like Salinger, he is on the rotund side but on a more massive scale.

On orders of Johnson and the doctor, Reedy is scaling down calories and poundage. From 265 or 270 pounds he is about a third of the way to the 200 the doctor recommends.

Reedy still was in a hospital Thursday, recovering from gall bladder trouble and doing some supervised dieting, when he got word of the forthcoming change. He went to the White House for a joint appearance at his first press briefing and Salinger's last.

Salinger announced his own resignation and the appointment of Reedy.

Why Belabor The Point?

When a reader has nothing better to do with his time this Spring, he can always find one more explanation of all the reasons there is no love lost between President Johnson and Attorney General Kennedy.

Anyone who ever spent a few minutes within eavesdropping range of the two men is a pseudo-expert on their relationship. It is the season's most popular and least rewarding line of speculation.

But why belabor the point that they do not love each other when love at the top level of political affairs is unheard of?

THESE TOP LEVEL PEOPLE have unusual political ambition and savvy; that's why they are on the top level.

They live in an environment that puts a premium on official survival. Whenever one of them can be destroyed, there is a vacant place to be filled by a successor waiting in the wings.

No man who thought he had a chance to be president of the United States ever closed his mind to the possibility. This is the grand prize, the ultimate reward in politics. When presidential ambition seizes a potential contender, it shakes out of him all diffidence and scruples. He plays for keeps.

A few years ago, speculation was frenzied about the love that wasn't lost between Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon, between Harry Truman and Adlai Stevenson, between Franklin Roosevelt and Henry Wallace.

WHY BE INTRIGUED by the possibility the President and his attorney general are not enamored of each other in 1964?

The fact is, Mr. Johnson and John F. Kennedy were not bosom buddies either but rivals for the presidential nomination four years ago. What is so unusual about the likelihood Lyndon B. Johnson and Robert F. Kennedy now are looking down each other's throats over the same proposition?

If it were any other way, that would be the political sensation of the decade. Either Mr. Johnson or Mr. Kennedy would have lost his grip on his chosen profession.

Veterans Day Issue

The ideals of Americanism and the goals of democracy are guarded by few so zealously as the veterans organizations of the nation and the school teachers.

Veterans, many of whom served in combat, are especially aware of the sacrifices demanded of true defenders of freedom.

The school teachers—more than most Americans—know that education is the keystone of democracy, that the traditions and patriotism of this nation are made a part of the character of young people through the classrooms and school programs.

The matter of observing Veterans Day has come before the city board of education through the annual preparation of the school calendar.

AFTER SUBMITTING various term schedules for 1963-64 to the school faculties, it was determined the teachers overwhelmingly supported calendars which included holding classes on Nov. 11.

Three board members, however, voted to turn down any proposal which would not call for dismissal of school for Veterans Day.

School teachers—most of whom are veterans, wives of veterans or sons and daughters of veterans—were not slighting the annual commemoration on behalf of the nation's former fighting men by voting to hold classes on the anniversary of the 1918 Armistice. They were asked to give their professional judgment on the most efficient, suitable schedule for the school term.

The observance of Veterans Day should be too valued a part of Americana to become a controversy.

There should, in fact, be an increased effort on the part of the schools to establish in the minds of our young people the role of the nation's men and women in the wars of the past and the uncertain keeping of the peace throughout the world today.

However, one wonders if dismissal of classes for a whole day in the middle of a carefully coordinated school week is the answer. Youngsters released from the school routine are unlikely to take special note of the holiday other than to consider it a day for touch football or neighborhood visitations.

THERE ARE national holidays, with special religious or patriotic significance, which are observed across the nation, and which require family participation, demanding travel or gatherings at certain sites. Memorial Day, Christmas, Easter are among such holidays for which schools should be dismissed.

In East Liverpool, there is apparently a need to re-evaluate the observance of Veterans Day.

It would be well for the teachers, the school administration, the board of education and the city's veterans organizations to consider jointly a special, unified approach to marking the November date.

Patriotism is not passe here, but it should not become an issue over which ill feeling might arise.

The way to avoid it is to cooperate and compromise on a solution acceptable, in part, to everyone. That is one of the things for which the veterans fought.

Plucky Pierre

WASHINGTON
"My shape is not good; I may be plucky, but I'm not stupid." So said Pierre Salinger, a roundish type. It could have been his epitaph.

But it was just his way of declining to lead newsmen on a 50-mile hike in 1963 when President Kennedy was pushing a physical fitness program.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had already done the 50 to show how fit the Kennedy administration was.

Therefore, Salinger concluded: "A further demonstration on my part would be superfluous and possibly disastrous."

Thursday he took what may be the longest walk of his life.

He resigned as President Johnson's press secretary to try to run for the Senate from California.

At the same time Dean Rusk, secretary of state, was reported planning to quit Johnson's administration after next November's elections.

Rusk, a tallish type with a tall forehead and few giggles, not only denied he would quit next November but said he had no plans to quit at all.

Two more different men than the decorous Dean and the pixie Pierre would be hard to find; there's been nothing like them in years.

Rusk's three years as secretary of state have been fantastic in the sense he has been almost totally free of criticism.

Purely Personal

If experience has taught me anything, we now will see what Washington calls a "phasing-out" of the military effort in South Viet Nam—the "phasing-out" to be covered with an extraordinary amount of belabored about "beefing-up."

Another St. Patrick's day has gone with scarcely an emerald flutter, in contrast with what happened when all of us were younger and the Irish were ethnic groups in even small towns. Today, their ethnic identity is retained only in a few cities, where it is identified with political partisanship.

The chief trouble with our educational system is its stubborn refusal to distinguish between pupils who need training and pupils who need academic preparation. The nation now has more than two million unemployed and unemployable young men and women neither trained nor educated because schools weren't adapted to their training needs and the

I am an admirer of Charles de Gaulle because he does what leaders are supposed to do; he leads. But I am glad he is 73 because I mistrust what he might do with his mental fixation about grandeur. He is trying to work up a personality cult—and people like that always believe their own publicity.

An old hand at the bar (legal) called the turn on Melvin M. Belli before the Jack Ruby trial started in Dallas. "That local jury will find against the showboat lawyer from Los Angeles," he predicted. "Poor Ruby will get lost in the shuffle."

Some of the happiest nights of my life are being enjoyed this March while winds blow and temperatures sink and I do not have to worry about lambs being born and freezing to death in an unheated barn.

Now, Have We Forgotten Anyone?

Auto Makers, Union Brace For Fight

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.
Here, where the old CIO was launched by a handful of men some 30 years ago, Walter Reuther and his militant secretary-treasurer, Emil Mazey, are telling the 3,000 United Automobile Workers (UAW) convention delegates that their union is now worth almost $88 million.

Victor Riesel

And the bulk of these assets is in a massive ready-to-use liquid strike fund, the world's biggest labor war chest.

Reuther—who at 56 is literally a battle-scarred veteran of scores of industrial wars which followed the first sit-in strikes—is ready to use the money in a showdown fight with the "Big Three" auto manufacturers this summer. And he is saying so quite frankly.

"In 1964 the UAW is better prepared than ever before," Reuther advises in a report submitted to the 19th UAW Constitutional Convention.

"It's estimated that by the time our contracts terminate we should have approximately $65 million in the International Strike Defense Fund. It is our hope—and we shall do everything humanly possible through rational responsible goodwill and good faith collective bargaining—to avoid a situation '35 when he was a red-haired that would require our using these strike defense funds."

"WE HAVE BUILT these sizable strike defense funds as the best insurance against the possibility of a strike, for just as adequate military power provides the best insurance for peace, so a strong and adequate defense fund is the best guarantee that a strike will not be necessary."

"The best interests of UAW members can be served only when their union is strong and prepared for any eventuality."

"We go to the bargaining table in 1964 stronger and better prepared than at any time in the history of our union."

What is the auto union high command preparing for? Most observers who expect the traditional drives for earlier retirement, higher wages, pensions and welfare benefits are not yet aware of what may well become the prime collective bargaining issue. This is the campaign for a 50-minute work hour. It will be a big push to establish the right of the worker to spend more time away from the job—and this will not be just for toilet time.

THE GOAL of this campaign is to write into the contract the right of hundreds of thousands of workers inside the plants and on the assembly line to knock off for a while—to grab a smoke, read a newspaper, relax, stroll, or make a phone call—not just for 12 minutes in the morning and 12 minutes during the afternoon, but regularly.

Such a change would require relief workers who could stop into the slot when the worker on the line knocks off for a few minutes.

Those who have discussed this with highly placed UAW officials and delegates realize how intense the policy makers are in this union whose membership is so much maturer now than in the old convention hell-raising days when signs were posted warning the folks not to throw water-filled paper bags out the windows.

No doubt the auto companies will fight such a move, since the cost of cutting the hour to 55 or 50 minutes for some 600,000 workers will be heavy. And the warning from Reuther is that if the dispute over this and other issues does result in a strike later this year, the union has enough money to hold out for months and support its people for the duration.

There is another intriguing aspect of this strike fund.

THE INTEREST earned by the strike fund finances the global activities of Reuther's union. And they are global-ranging from sophisticated Switzerland to Tokyo and around to the interior of Brazil. During the last fiscal year, the strike fund put $2.82 million into what Reuther calls the International UAW Free World Labor Defense Fund.

It also helped set up a central research organization for four big union federations in Tokyo, encouraged and aided Italian metal workers to strike and eventually to win the dues checkoff, wage increases and a shorter work week; "revitalized" the Turkish metal workers union so effectively that its membership skyrocketed from 8,000 to 58,000, supported a French miners' strike and aided the establishment of a world labor film and propaganda center in Brussels.

Obviously, Walter Reuther's horizons are far beyond those of the handful of men who launched the CIO here back in '35 when he was a red-haired youngster still dreaming of his first sit-in strike.

DeGaulle's Tour

By Don Cook

At a "diplomatic dinner party" in Paris a few nights ago, an American guest turned to a Frenchman and remarked with a sort of icy cordiality that President de Gaulle's plans for touring Latin America were all very interesting, but what kind of hard cash were the French going to be able to put up for these countries when it was all over?

"You Americans—you only think in terms of money," the Frenchman retorted indignantly. "Gen. de Gaulle is thinking in terms of helping these countries to achieve political independence in the world. That is what they want. They want to stand on their own. They don't want to depend on your money. He is going there to show them that there is another way, to give them new leadership in the world to turn to."

The answers to the many questions about Gen. de Gaulle is up to in Latin America may begin to unfold soon—if there are any.

Later this year, sometime in the fall, the French president will be winging his way back across the Atlantic on a grand tour of South America which in the end may include every state and every capital south of Panama. It is Gaullism on a grand scale—carrying the image and the message of France back to the corners of a continent which France has long forgotten and ignored.

There is in fact very little if anything which is basically antagonistic or incompatible with American policy in Latin America in this newest Gaullist diplomatic foray onto the world scene.

The idea that Gen. de Gaulle is out to spike American guns wherever he can in the world may well be exaggerated. In fact, one of DeGaulle's Cabinet ministers complained to a journalist the other day that the Americans are getting a "persecution complex" about the General.

Still, it is easy to imagine what French reaction would be if President Johnson embarked on a tour of the former French colonies of Central Africa, proclaiming that his sole purpose was to show them how to achieve political independence from the country which is supplying them with aid.

In the final analysis, it's part of the price of the low state of Franco-American understanding that the positive aspects and the helpful and hopeful motives in Latin American could not have been fully discussed, explained and understood. Had this been done, at a Johnson-DeGaulle meeting for example, then the whole atmosphere might be different.

Civil Rights, Pro And Con

By David Lawrence

Justice Outlines Position On Proposed Bill

Perhaps the clearest expression of what is involved in the civil rights bill pending before Congress has been given by a retired justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Charles E. Whittaker, in an address before the Southeast Missouri State College.

David Lawrence

While not attempting in any way to pass judgment on the constitutionality of the bill or to forecast any decisions, Mr. Whittaker explained just what is the pro and con in the public debate.

He said, for instance, that "irresponsible recriminations and term usages settle nothing, but only divide and confuse people and create new problems," and can't be a good substitute for "co-operative, calm and responsible reasoning processes."

"Today there is a wide tendency to speak argumentatively through the use of catchwords. Some of those that are commonly heard are terms of fairly definite meaning, such as 'segregation,' 'discrimination' and 'integration,' but even they are often used with little fidelity to their true meaning. Others are advanced as terms of definite meaning, or of art, when in fact, as often used, they are meaningless....

"THE TERM 'segregation' is, in legal effect, but another synonym for prohibited 'discrimination.' The term 'desegregation' is a coined one of awkward and dubious meaning."

"But the term 'integration,' though commonly used as a synonym of 'antidiscrimination' or 'antisegregation,' actually has a very different meaning, and embraces the concept of mixing—well illustrated by the transfer of schoolchildren from their home district to a distant district for the purpose not of avoiding 'discrimination' but of affirmatively 'integrating' the races.

"There is, as the Supreme Court has held, a clear basis in the fundamental law or our land, and particularly in the 14th Amendment of the United States Constitution, for striking down 'state acts' of 'discrimination' and hence 'segregation' in all 'public' institutions, including state public schools, as violative of that amendment's guarantee of equal protection of the laws.

As the law stands today, there is no federal—distinguished from state—legal basis for compelling 'integration.'"

Justice Whittaker pointed out that the Supreme Court, in the only opinion which it has rendered on the point, held unconstitutional an attempt by an act of Congress "to establish a code of municipal law regulative of all private rights between man and man in society."

HE SAID that the court ruled that this "was not within the powers delegated to the national government by the states and the people through the Constitution, and was therefore beyond the power of Congress to enact."

He explained the two opposing views in the debate today and referred to the intention of the advocates of the current "civil rights" bill to try to get another legal test.

He added that they—"the defenders of the new bill"—"seem to hope that the court, if again presented with the question, would find its 1883 opinion to be an erroneously narrow interpretation of the Constitution, and that the present bill is within Congress's constitutional powers." He added:

"I, of course, have no information, and intend no expression, upon how that argument might fare in the court, or even upon how it ought to fare there."

Continuing his exposition of the issues, Justice Whittaker said:

"A principal controversy seems to center over what is called the 'public accommodations' features of the pending bill. Those features, while not identical with, are very like the ones contained in the Civil Rights Act of 1875, which act, as stated, was held unconstitutional by the court in 1883.

"Many people seem to be quite nonspecific and unclear in their use of the term 'public accommodations.'"

"Those espousing passage of the pending bill seem to take the view that all, or nearly all, entrepreneurial establishments that do business generally with the public are, or ought to be held to be, 'public.'"

"THOSE WHO resist passage of the pending bill seem to take the view that, in the presently existing legal sense, as in the dictionary sense, only those enterprises which are carried on by, or are lawfully and fully regulated by, the state or federal government—usually tax-supported or subsidized enterprises—are 'public,' and that all others, such as one's home, club, store, shop or office, or his restaurant or hotel, are 'private' enterprises, to which only those who are expressly or impliedly invited may, of right, come and enter.

"And they contend that, inasmuch, and so long as, this is so, any invitation expressly or impliedly extended to members of the public may be withdrawn or negated by any private entrepreneur for wholly and arbitrary reasons, or for no reason, simply by the giving or posting of a notice accordingly, and that it is beyond the constitutional power of the federal government—distinguished from the state government—as held by the Supreme Court in the civil-rights cases in 1883, to do anything about it.

"I DO NOT intend to enter that controversy, or to do more, in this connection, than to point out the importance of ascribing to words, including the words 'public' and 'private,' their true meanings in any reasoned and enlightening discussion of issues that revolve around them."

The views of Justice Whittaker, as a retired member of the Supreme Court, have made a deep impression in Washington. The full text of his speech was inserted in the Congressional Record on Tuesday.

Mr. Whittaker served as a federal district judge and as a judge on the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1957 by President Eisenhower and resigned in 1962.

Dalrymple Raps Hays On Pay Bill At GOP Banquet

About 200 attended a Jefferson County Republican executive and central committee banquet at Wintersville High School Thursday night at which Allen Dalrymple of Wellsville, GOP candidate for Congress, rapped Rep. Wayne L. Hays for voting in favor of a pay raise for congressmen.

Dalrymple pointed out the proposed $10,000 pay hike which was turned down in a House roll call vote, represented an increase of more than 40 per cent for congressmen but only about 5 per cent for postal clerks.

"If Mr. Hays feels his present salary is inadequate, he shouldn't be seeking re-election," Dalrymple asserted.

Midland July 4th Planners Seek Slogan In High Schools

The Midland July 4th Executive committee is contacting area high schools to participate again in a contest to select a slogan for this year's celebration, which falls on Saturday.

Last year's theme was "Let Freedom Ring", submitted by Christine Tepavich, then a Midland Jr. High School student.

This will be the third year for the contest. The winner will receive a $25 Savings Bond and will ride with Mayor Eli Corak as an honorary parade marshal. The committee expects to announce the winner at its next meeting April 13 at the Borough Building.

The theme supplies the idea around which the celebration is based and is used in the parade floats.

The committee has decided to hold a street dance again at the close of the day's celebration. The parade route will also be the same as last year.

The committee has authorized Midland volunteer firemen to hold a carnival at Crucible Field, providing the company also gives its permission.

Plans are being discussed for a drive to raise funds. The annual celebration is a day's program of free entertainment for young and old alike.

Mayor Corak is general chairman. Other members are William Vinovich, Council president, as vice chairman; Steve Trbovich, Crucible superintendent, as finance chairman; William Black of Ohio View, treasurer; Don Craik, secretary, and Charles P. Henderson of Industry, program chairman.

John Shovlin III, chairman of special events; Capt. William MacBurney of East Liverpool, chief of Crucible plant protection, fireworks chairman; Guy E. Gengarella and Charles L. Finley, representing the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce, and Harry Petrosky, president of Steelworkers, Local 1212, prizes chairman.

Police Chief E. J. Steff, police and safety chairman; Atty. Robert J. Masters, judges chairman; John Waddingham, commander of American Legion Post 481, parade chairman, and William Riddle, past commander, parade co-chairman, Earl Rankin, publicity; Edward Cilli, Board of Education president, honorary member, and Charles R. Schmitt, representing the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. an honorary member.

McNamara, Rusk Told To Stay Out Of Political Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara he wants him to stay out of the 1964 political campaign, it was learned today.

Johnson has given similar word to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In all probability, sources said McNamara would have kept clear of any political campaigning even if Johnson had not expressly ordered it that way.

Cabinet officers in less sensitive fields often are expected to pitch in and help win votes for the man in the White House. But the heads of the State and Defense departments traditionally have tried to remain above the battle.

35 Negroes Arrested In Racial Flareup

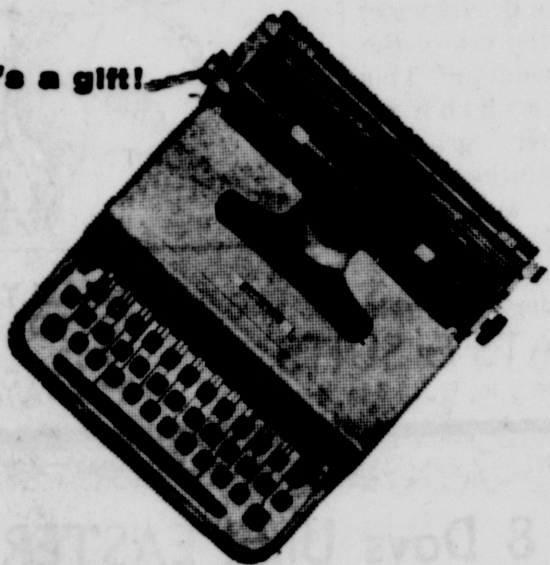

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police arrested 23 Negroes Thursday night as demonstrators stepped up their drive to end segregation in downtown Jacksonville.

Twenty Negroes were arrested Wednesday in demonstrations against a hotel and several eating places. The trial of 20 was postponed Thursday until March 25 after 200 Negroes gathered in front of the Municipal Court building, singing and praying.

Judge John Santora said there was too much noise to carry on the trial.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter will prove that a person is never too old to ask for advice. I'm a 70-year-old widow who is being pestered to death by a male neighbor.

This man is 77 years of age and as spry as a colt. He catches me when I'm working in the garden and sticks like a corn plaster. I've tried locking the door on him but he raps at the window until I finally let him in.

Once he put his arms around me when I was brewing tea and begged for just one little kiss. I told him if he didn't stop being so silly I would telephone his wife. He said, "She'll never believe you. I haven't kissed her in years."

Well, Ann, he was right. I telephoned his wife and she said I must be crazy because he is harmless.

Last October I invited a lady friend to spend a couple of weeks with me. It didn't help. He continued to hang around and he even made a few plays for her. (She is 67.) Tell me how to get rid of this fool.

Dear Reader: Please don't give me any static about how this man pesters you. A couple of no-nonsense sentences and a door that stays locked would solve your problem permanently. He sounds like he's in his second childhood—and so do you.

Ex-Wife's Problem

Dear Ann: For eight years I was married to a sadist. Lord knows I tried to make the marriage work but both my doctor and my clergyman told me to leave before he put me in my grave. We were divorced in December.

I've always made good money and have been self-supporting. Through the years I've managed to save a little because I was unable to get insurance due to a heart condition. I did not ask for a settlement or alimony.

Last night my former mother-in-law telephoned to say the family had talked it over and they feel I should return the jewelry her son gave me, since most of the pieces are heirlooms and would have no meaning to me now.

I had the jewelry appraised and it is worth about $13,000. I never would wear it but if I ever became ill it could get me out of a tight spot. Should I keep the jewelry or return it? —EX W.

Dear Ex: The jewelry was given to you during your marriage and you are entitled to keep it. Tell your ex-mother-in-law if you ever decide to sell the jewelry you promise to give the family first refusal.

Impolite Neighbor

Dear Ann: This may be a small matter but it is beginning to annoy me no end. Maybe you can help.

I have a very good friend, who, when she wants a favor never says, "Please, could you?" — or "I would appreciate it if —" It's always, "I want you to do this and so."

Sometimes she sends her children to my door. They speak the way she does. This morning the 11-year-old said to me, "Mother wants you to pick up a loaf of bread and two quarts of milk for her when you go to the market today."

I was particularly nettled and replied, "It would be nice if you would hook a please on to that." He did not get the point.

Am I making a big fuss over nothing? Should I rise above my irritation and remain silent? Or should I let the woman know how I feel and try to teach her and her children some decent manners? — HUTCHINSON HATTIE.

Dear Hattie: Correct your friend and her children when they demand instead of ask. And be direct. This crew doesn't know from subtle.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

But Full Subsidy Assured

Extra $5 Million Seen Needed For Ohio Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud and Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem have estimated it will cost an extra $5 million in state subsidies to meet the needs of Ohio schools this year.

But the two legislative leaders said in a news conference Thursday that school districts will get their state subsidy money in full and on time, reiterating what Cloud told his fellow House members by mail Wednesday.

The payments will be made, they said, in spite of a recent Controlling Board resolution warning districts to live within legislative appropriations. They pointed out that the districts commit themselves for a full calendar year and rely on the state paying up.

The State School Board earlier had defied the Controlling Board's warning and threatened to take the state's financial obligations under the school foundation law directly to the state auditor.

Cloud and Mechem said in their joint statement that subsidy money will be paid "because it was agreed that the commitment to the local school districts, however made, must be kept."

Finance Director Richard L. Krabach has predicted the school subsidy fund will be $5 million in the red by the end of the fiscal biennium (June 30, 1964) if local districts continue their present rate of spending.

The state school subsidy is set by formula in state law and it is on this law that the State School Board based its defiance of the Controlling Board.

Mechem asserted that money to meet the schools' needs "will be there and it will be released," pointing out that tax collections are up this year.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

I THIRST

In His death agony on the cross, Jesus cried out several times. When He said, "I thirst," a soldier standing nearby put a sponge on the end of a spear and plunged it into a vessel of vinegar. To the vinegar he added some gall. Whether this was done to soothe the wounds of Jesus or to mock Him further, we do not know.

But John tells us that after the vinegar reached His mouth, "He said, 'It is finished,' and He bowed His head, and gave up the ghost." (John XIX:30) 3-20

Santa Claus Type Hibernian Terms Judge Real Irishman

A bearded 68-year-old Steubenville man who could pass for Santa Claus in the proper costume today termed Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff "a real Irishman" after the court forgave a fine on an intoxication charge and allowed the defendant to trudge off toward Jefferson County afoot.

Thomas A. Ryan, who admitted he was tapering off from a St. Patrick's Day celebration, faced the judge this morning in broken shoes, a mismatched coat and trousers and an old blue necktie and dangled well below his waist.

But it was the full, white beard on a ruddy Irish face that first caught the judge's eye.

"It has been three days since St. Patrick's Day; are you still celebrating," the judge asked. "Yes, I was tapering off," Ryan replied. "You know us Irish; we hate to quit."

Ryan asked for leniency and explained he wanted to get back to Steubenville to pick up a pension check which should have arrived in the mail yesterday.

"In the spirit of St. Patrick's Day, I will give you a break," the judge replied. He decreed a fine of $10 and costs, but suspended the penalty on condition Ryan left East Liverpool immediately.

Ryan called down all the blessings of Heaven on the judge's head.

"He's a real Irishman," Ryan added. "I hope he goes to Heaven like all good Irishmen."

Donning a long old overcoat with two shamrocks pinned to the lapel, he headed west on W. 6th St., ostensibly for his home in Steubenville.

He was arrested Thursday night at 8:52 at City Hall by Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice, police said.

About 40 per cent of all copper produced in the United States is taken from the mines of Arizona.

Health Board Says 12 Milk Firms 'Tardy'

With the deadline but a week away, only four of 16 milk distributors have complied with a city law setting up requirements for inspections and license fees, the Board of Health was told Thursday night at its meeting in City Hall.

The deadline is March 27 and those who fail to comply are liable to prosecution if they continue to distribute milk and milk products in the city.

The board said milk distributors have been notified in two separate letters, the last mailed after its February meeting when the board decided to grant distributors a 30-day period in which to comply.

Gene Smith, new sanitary police officer, reported he made 34 inspections, including 12 milk samples, one of which was not satisfactory. The other inspections included water samples and checks of dairy farms.

Licensing of stores and mobile units which sell "soft" ice cream also was discussed with Health Commissioner Septimus Cook and Smith to inspect the handlers to determine the type of license required.

The board also discussed the possibility of holding a pre-school immunization clinic.

Cook reported he made 213 inspections and Miss Selma Ladzinske, health nurse, listed 155 visits.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 41 males and 43 females were born in the city since the last meeting and deaths included 15 males, 20 females and four children.

Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman, presided with C. Frank Dales, Dr. C. M. Mayberry and Paul Zehnder attending.

Vegetable Lentil Stew Proves Popular

Entertaining a crowd with a big kettle of hearty soup as a main course has become very popular with teen-agers and young marrieds. It's more unusual than a casserole, and with plenty of "go-with-its" your guests will feel well-fed. For instance, serve hot garlic or French bread or a loaf of bake-and-serve cheese or onion bread. Of course, you'll serve relishes — gherkins or dills, olives, celery, and perhaps raw cauliflower flowerettes. If, like so many young couples, you are both employed, you will probably want to buy dessert ready-made. If you have a bit more time to bake, one of the unusual cake mixes, such as moist pineapple, toffee swirl, apple raisin, or butterscotch won't take long. The cake can be served warm, topped with ice cream and a choice of sauce.

VEGETABLE LENTIL STEW
1 pint (1 lb.) dried lentils
3 pints boiling water
¼ cup fat
1 cup finely diced onion
1 pint finely diced celery
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup catsup
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
1 cup finely diced potatoes
1 pint finely diced carrots
1 pound frankfurters

Rinse lentils in cold water and drain them. Add lentils to boiling water and simmer 45 minutes. Meanwhile, melt fat in Dutch oven over moderate heat. Add onion and celery. Let cook about 5 min. Drain cooked lentils and measure liquid, then add enough water to lentil water to make 8 cups of liquid. Add this to celery-onion mixture and stir in tomato sauce, bouillon cubes, salt, sugar, catsup, and kitchen bouquet. Cover and bring water to a boil. Add potatoes, carrots, lentils, and frankfurters which have been cut in ¼ inch slides. Bring to boil again, then lower heat and cook, covered, until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes. Add more salt or seasonings if desired. Let stand over low heat 30-45 more minutes for stew to blend flavors. Makes 10-12 servings.

Oak Glen Parents Map Plans For First Post-Prom Party

Parents of Oak Glen High School juniors and seniors, meeting Thursday night in the school to organize a post-prom organization, elected Joe Gibas of Newell as the first president. Approximately 100 parents from Newell, Chester and New Cumberland attended to form the Oak Glen United Prom Organization.

The group will arrange a program for the students following the school's first prom June 5.

Other officers elected were Mrs. J. M. Brand of Chester, secretary, and Mrs. Stewart Glass of New Cumberland, treasurer.

The new president named committee chairmen for this year's party. They include Mrs. Richard Manypenny of New Cumberland, entertainment; Mrs. Bernard Reber of Chester, food; Mrs. James Gracie of Pughtown, finance, and Mrs. Mae Hupp of Newell and Mrs. Rhea Jones of New Cumberland, reporters.

The group agreed that the post-prom event will be closed to everyone except the 450 juniors and seniors of Oak Glen, due to limited facilities. The program will be held in the gymnasium.

Tim Stover and James Seever attended as class representatives.

Working committees are to meet April 2. Next meeting of the Post-Prom Organization is set tentatively April 9.

Citation Given Man In Crash

Officers cited a 61-year-old truck driver late Thursday afternoon after a minor collision on North Side that damaged a parked auto.

A backing 1962 model truck operated by Emil G. Dominick of Park Way Ext. hit a 1962 sedan owned by Raymond Wagner, 936 McKinnon Ave., which was parked on McKinnon Ave. about 100 feet west of Anderson Blvd., police said.

The mishap, timed at 5:45 p. m., damaged the left rear quarter panel and right rear hubcap of the auto, officers said. There was no damage to the truck, owned by the Commonwealth System, Inc., of Steubenville.

Dominick said he was backing from a McKinnon Ave. driveway. He said he did not see the parked car, although he was looking into rear view mirrors.

Officers cited him under a section of the City Code that covers backing a motor vehicle without "ample vigilance."

Dominick's hearing is set Monday morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Meanwhile, Alfonso J. Trainor, 309 15th St., Wellsville, told police the right side of his 1957 sedan was damaged by a hit-skip car while parked on a lot at City Hospital between 6:55 and 8 p.m. Thursday.

Go Into Effect March 28

Ohio PUC Makes Changes In Trucking Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The three-member Ohio Public Utilities Commission has decided on some significant changes in its trucking regulations.

They are in two administrative orders which are to go into effect March 28. Both orders are on file with the secretary of state and primarily involve those who haul general freight.

Commission officials said the proposed changes include:

Regular carriers—those who serve specific points regularly—no longer would be confined to specific routes as long as they continue to serve the communities authorized by the commission. This way, for example, a regular carrier could take advantage of a new superhighway if it is near the point he serves.

Irregular carriers—those who have had permission to operate from one "base area" (city) to other points, but not on a regular basis—may continue operations of "volume and regularity." That is, officials said, those who have been operating more or less regularly between various points, even though they have only irregular authority, may continue to do so.

Regular and irregular carriers could bring freight from one city to another, transfer it to an irregular carrier who would take it to the destination city, and the rates would be uniform.

The orders also spell out the commission's efforts to check up on dormant trucking operations, those no longer in a position to serve the public if called upon.

A number of trucking operations, such as dump trucks, moving vans, oil and gas well equipment haulers, house trailer haulers, livestock and dairy trucks and the like, are exempt from the requirements.

Survey Indicates 'Moonlighting' Has Taken Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—More people are "moonlighting" than ever before, the government says.

And, declares the AFL-CIO, "Moonlighting is bad and we try to discourage it."

"Moonlighting" is the term applied to the practice of one person holding two jobs.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reported a sharp increase in double job-holding in a recent survey.

The figures showed that 3.9 million Americans held an extra job, a rise of 600,000 in a year and "the first significant increase in extra job-holding" since 1956.

The number of moonlighters added up to 5.7 per cent of American workers.

The AFL-CIO deplored moonlighting on grounds that it is one of the factors contributing heavily to the nation's high number of unemployed, now 4.5 million persons.

Lasher, Founder Of Ohio U. School Of Journalism, Dies

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—George Starr Lasher, who began his newspaper career at the age of 12 and went on to become founder of Ohio University's School of Journalism, is dead.

Lasher, 78, was stricken at a nursing home here Thursday.

He moved to Buffalo from Athens, Ohio, last July after suffering a stroke. His daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnette, live in Buffalo where he is a reporter for the Evening News.

Lasher retired in 1956 after 32 years at Ohio University. During that time he built the journalism school into one of national prominence.

Among other things, he was one of the first journalism professors to take the student out of the classroom and put him in the city room. He instituted the practice of having all students work on the Athens Messenger at some time during their college careers.

Lasher, a native of Hickory corners, Mich., took his first job at 12 as a copy boy for the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Gazette. At 19, he bought the Plainwell (Mich.) News, a semi-weekly, and became Michigan's youngest editor-publisher.

While at the University of Michigan, Lasher and a group of other upperclassmen formed the Theta Chi social fraternity. He was national president of the fraternity from 1931-34 and for the last 28 years was editor of its quarterly magazine, The Rattle.

A memorial service will be held at Ohio University.

This could be the first step that brings you "wholesale" electric rates!

Start now to enjoy the money-saving advantages of progressively lower rates for your electric "servants."

An electric water heater (flameless, sootless, flueless) gets a special low rate of its own. Also, each time you buy other electric equipment, such as a range, a heating system, air conditioning . . . you get more and more of your electricity at lower rates. The benefit of this low rate spreads out over your other appliances and lighting as well. So, the more chores you entrust to electricity, the less you pay for each unit . . . until you reach the lowest rate of all . . . our Total Electric rate.

Free booklet gives details

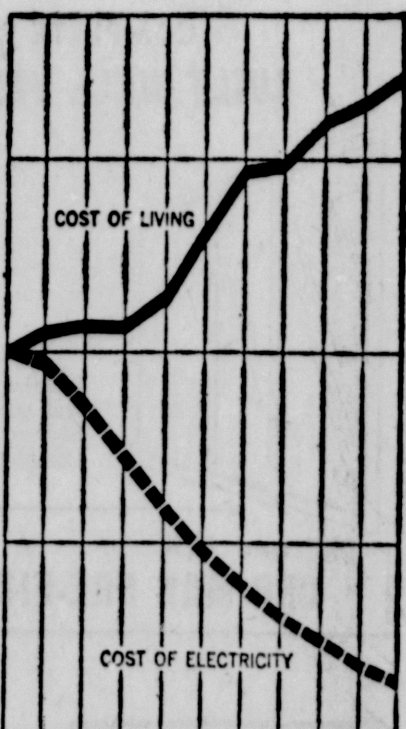

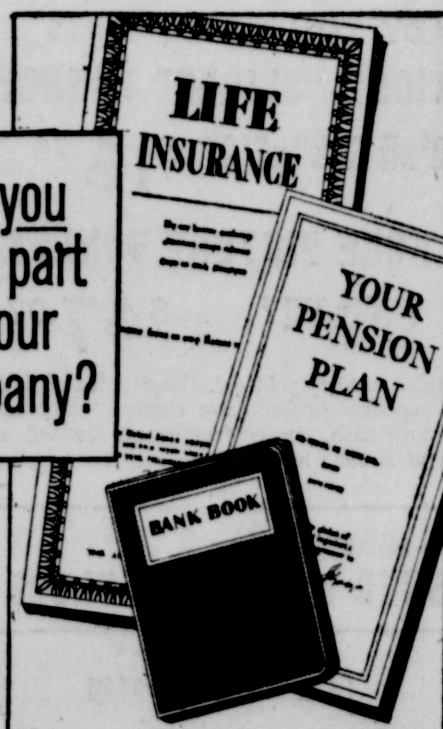

We have a special booklet for those who would like to know more about Total Electric living. It gives data on rates as they apply in your case . . . shows steps you should take to get low "wholesale" rates.

There's a checklist to help you discover how close you may already be to Total Electric living. And you'll see why electric rates in this area are among the lowest in the nation.

This booklet is called Sooner Than You Think. For your free copy, phone us . . . stop in at any of our offices . . . or send the coupon below.

Do you own part of our company?

Facilities such as this natural draft cooling tower—the world's largest—are part of the huge investment needed to serve you with reliable, low-cost electricity. The money that makes such facilities possible is put up by people in all walks of life—perhaps you yourself. Here's why . . .

Tens of thousands of people own the securities of the American Electric Power System, of which we are a part. In addition, your pension fund, insurance company, or savings bank may own some of these securities. Four million people have a financial interest in this system.

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows how the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity has been lowered 18% in the past 10 years, while cost of living has risen 14% in the same period . . . and we're dedicated to continue this trend.

PAPANICOLAOU TEST FOR CANCER

Q. Would you please discuss the Pap. or smear test for cancer?

A. In its earliest stage of development, cancer of the cervix (neck of the womb) seems to be confined to surface tissue for some time (months, perhaps, but not years) before it penetrates into deeper structures. The best chance for cure is during the early, surface stage. Several tests can be used to detect trouble early, one of which is the Papanicolaou or smear test. This test is based upon the fact that cancer cells are more loosely attached to one another than normal cells. They tend to shed more easily and, in cervical cancer, the abnormal cells tend to collect in the vagina. Cells are obtained by swab, spread or smeared on a glass slide, and studied under a microscope. The Pap. test has the advantage, so far as the patient is concerned, of being quite painless and simple. If suspicious cells are found, other tests are made to confirm or definitely rule out cancer.

HEARING AID USERS

Q. What theatre seats are best for hearing aid users?

A. According to an English doctor, the best seating position is in the middle of the room and as close to the center as possible. If loud speakers are in use, sit in front of and between the first set of speakers.

Legal Battle Develops In Mayhew Case

NEW CUMBERLAND — A legal battle delaying the case of Edgar W. Mayhew shaped up in Hancock County Circuit Court Thursday when his defense counsel followed up last month's formal motion with a brief charging six indictments against the Pughtown resident constitute double jeopardy.

Acquitted last fall of embezzlement of tax funds from the tax collection office of the Hancock County sheriff's department, Mayhew was indicted by the January Grand Jury on six counts of false entry.

Atty. Gilbert Bachmann of Wheeling, chief defense counsel, yesterday filed a formal brief charging the six indictments on false entry constitute "double jeopardy."

Judge James G. McClure granted Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr a month — or until April 19 — in which to file an answer. The defense may then present a written answer to the prosecutor's reply.

At yesterday's hour-long hearing, Atty. Tarr contended that the tax records submitted as evidence in Mayhew's September trial were "produced to show that Mayhew embezzled the money and tried to cover up the shortage by making overstatements in the record books."

Tarr said the evidence to be used during trial on any of the six false entry indictments will be presented in an attempt to prove only false entry charges, and therefore not linked with the first trial on embezzlement.

Atty. Bachmann contended in his brief that the six false entry indictments constitute "double jeopardy" and "collateral estoppel."

He noted double jeopardy bars retrial on a same charge after acquittal, while "collateral estoppel" bars retrial on the same issues.

Also representing Mayhew, 64, are Atty. John Garden of Wheeling and Atty. Edwin Flowers of New Cumberland.

Mears On Defense . . .

Ray Mears, head basketball coach at the University of Tennessee, will be "on the defense," so to speak, when he appears here March 30 to talk at the ELHS basketball banquet.

When Mears was making news on the Ohio college scene with his fine Wittenberg teams, defense proved the key to his success.

Under Mears' coaching, Wittenberg for three seasons used its tough zone defense to hold its opponents to the lowest scoring totals of any team in the nation.

Offensively his teams were a "disciplined" outfit working for the good shots.

Mears won all the marbles in 1961 when Wittenberg captured NCAA small college division.

Success followed Mears from small Wittenberg to Tennessee. The Volunteers compiled a 16-8 record for second place in the Southeastern Conference this season.

He is a native of Ohio, coming from Dover. He was graduated in 1949 from Miami where he was a member of the basketball squad. He coached at Cadiz and West Tech High School in Cleveland before moving to Wittenberg.

His record is outstanding with 150 victories against 42 defeats in seven years of coaching in the college ranks.

Jones To Get Pro Tryout . . .

FRED (Red) Jones, the Little All-American who performed with Youngstown U. Wednesday night at Memorial Auditorium, will get a crack at professional basketball.

Jones has tryouts scheduled with the Cincinnati Royals and the New York Knicks of the NBA.

Rated one of the finest guards ever to come out of Youngstown U., Jones plans to go into teaching and coaching if he doesn't hit on something in the pro ranks.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THE LITTLE Potters League wishes to thank the public for making its annual game Wednesday night a success. The League derived nearly $500 from the game to help support its program for next season.

HERE'S ONE for the boys to match. Sandy Butler, a member of the girl's basketball team at a high school in Council Bluffs, Iowa, averaged 48.5 points a game in leading her team to 16 straight season victories.

And just to show that her season scoring was no fluke, she tossed in 78 points in the state tournament game to set an Iowa girls record.

COPELAND Hills golf course at Columbiana has announced the appointment of Bob Evans of Elkhart, Ind., as the club's new pro.

Evans, who turned pro in 1955, played on the PGA tour in 1959 and has won several state titles in Indiana. He comes to Copeland Hills from the Brandywine Country Club in Niles, Mich.

Evans will be giving golf instructions and Copeland Hills plans to open this weekend if the weather is favorable.

A LIST of team and individual records was compiled recently for the state of West Virginia and seventh among the best individual scoring performances was Ron LaNeve of Newell.

Ron once scored 64 points in one game when Newell was playing New Cumberland in the 1951 season.

IT'S OFF to Columbus and the state basketball tournament this weekend. From here it seems if Dayton Belmont can get by tall Canton McKinley tonight the Dayton team could take everything.

The "Cinderella" team of the tourney is Elyria, an outfit that advanced to the finals after losing seven games in regular season play and were never rated all season.

New Mexico, Bradley Paired In NIT Finals

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—New Mexico's Ira Harge, at 6-foot-8 and 203 pounds, presents a formidable barrier between Bradley and its third National Invitation Tournament basketball championship.

To hear Bradley personnel talk, removing Harge is tougher than getting rid of dandruff.

The New Mexico senior was the object of everyone's admiration following the NIT semifinals Thursday night in which the Lobos pressed their way past NYU 72-65 and Bradley rambled over Army 67-52.

Fourth-seeded New Mexico and second-seeded Bradley clash Saturday afternoon for the title.

"I don't think anyone can handle Harge," Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn said flatly. "At least I haven't seen anyone handle him."

Levern Tart, the Braves' top scorer, called the Detroit resident "a whale of a player," adding:

"He jumps out of the gym. He's a demon on defense. You don't make many lay ups against him."

Joe Strawder, at 6-foot-9 the only Bradley player of comparable height, said Harge is "one of the greatest I've seen in college." It will be Strawder's job to guard Harge, but he's not sure how he'll do it.

"I guess the best thing to try and do is keep him from getting the ball," he commented.

Harge's 17 points weren't high for New Mexico, but he missed seven minutes of the first half and had to play cautiously in the second half because of personal fouls. On defense, he blocked a number of shots and generally got in NYU's way.

Ohio Ready To Crown Cage Champions

8 Quintets Eye Titles In State Classic

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is ready to crown its 1964 high school basketball champions, and all eight teams in the weekend classic firmly believe the title finger is pointed in their direction.

Despite divergent season records, there are no favorites at this stage of the colorful cage

Midland Soccer Team Will Play Sunday

The Midland soccer team will meet Hazel-Kirk in a Washington County League contest Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Crucible Field.

classic scheduled today and Saturday in Ohio State's St. John Arena.

The Class A teams four survivors of a starting field of 397, had semifinals on tap this afternoon. The Double-A larger schools, a quartet making up the residue of 513 original aspirants, meet tonight.

Every eye is on tonight's final fray. It sends Dayton Belmont's top-rated Bison against Canton McKinley's second-ranked Bulldogs—each with a 24-1 record—for a spot in Saturday's championship contest.

It's the first time in tournament history that the 1-2 teams in the final pre-tourney Associated Press poll have clashed.

The other Class AA semifinal sends Elyria's Cinderella squad (18-7) against Cleveland East (21-3).

Something else new had been added this year, since the cast is made up of three teams from the northeastern district and one from the southwest. Despite the talent arrayed against it, Dayton Belmont is given an even chance to give its area its 21st state title in 42 tries. If one of the other teams wins, the northeast will gain its seventh crown.

McKinley is in the state meet for the 15th time, Dayton Belmont is making its first appearance, Elyria was here two years ago, and Cleveland East in 1924. The Canton club has no titles to show for five previous trips to the championship game—and none of the others has reached the big payoff contest.

Dresden Jefferson, in Class A, hopes to add the smaller school title to its 1963 conquest—but only two teams in history have been able to put the division's championships back to back. Bellpoint did it in 1924 and 1925 and Waterloo's Wonders in 1934 and 1935.

Dresden (23-2) goes against Mogadore (16-6) in one semifinal, while Celina ICHS (26-1)—second rated and last of the division's Top Ten—battles Piqua Catholic (21-3). Only Dresden has been in the state tournament before.

Weir Faces Beckley In Tournament

MORGANTOWN (AP)—Lewisburg was to play Barrackville and undefeated Kermit was to meet Paw Paw this afternoon in the semifinals of the 1964 West Virginia Class A basketball tournament.

Beckley takes a crack at Weirton and Ron Fritz Williams, while Logan tangles with Morgantown tonight to launch Class AAA competition.

Williamson and New Martinsville won first-round games in the Class AA tournament Thursday night and meet Saturday at 1 p.m. for the title.

Both Class AA semifinal games started with one team comfortably ahead.

Williamson took a handy lead, scored 35 points in the fourth period and walloped Summersville, 89-59.

But New Martinsville, after trailing defending state champion Oceana by 11-points with five minutes remaining, splurged with a 54-51 victory.

Behind 50-39, New Martinsville reeled off 15 points while Oceana managed only one. The Blue Eagles never led until Jack Starcher scored the go-ahead goal with just four minutes left.

Pete Gent, Michigan State basketball captain, and Charley Migyanka, 1964 football captain, are academic honor roll students.

Snead's 68 Leads Doral

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sam Snead, still booming his shots off the tees at the age of 51, led the year's strongest golf field into the second round of the $50,000 Doral Open Tournament today.

Racking up a four-under-par 68 in the opening round despite his usual putting difficulties, Slamm'n Sam staked a first-round claim on the $7,500 first prize awaiting the winner Sunday.

One stroke behind were Mike Souchak, Dave Hill, Bob Shave Jr., Bert Yancey, Joe Lopez Sr. and Ken Venturi. Ten others were only two strokes off the pace.

Snead, who plays in only a few tournaments but continues to add substantially each year to one of golf's biggest bankrolls, complained that he missed five birdie putts.

This is his first start on the tour this year. The West Virginian started in only 12 out of 43 tournaments in 1963, but still collected more than $28,000.

The 7,028-yard Doral Country Club "Blue Course," called the "Blue Monster" by some pros, gobbled up two of golf's Big Three, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Palmer, still looking for his first victory of 1964, finished in a tie for 30th place after scrambling to a par 72 in a round that included a double-bogey.

Player, complaining that the Doral course "is too exacting," did even worse with a 73 after hitting into a water trap to take a double-bogey seven on the eighth hole.

Jack Nicklaus shot a 70, although he said, "I didn't drive well, my iron shots were only fair, and my putting was terrible." He three-putted four greens.

Ross County Cage Star Heads Ohio Class A Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's top-talented Class A high school basketball player comes from the hills of Ross County.

He is Larry Jordan, a 6-foot-6 senior who carried Richmondale Southeastern through 25 straight victories before bowing to Dresden Jefferson's defending state champions. He averaged 30 points while doing it, and his team was the last in the state to feel defeat.

Jordan, with four other hotshots in the smaller school division, Thursday night was named to the Associated Press All-Ohio Class A team—the best of the talent from 397 schools. Only pre-tournament performances were considered as Associated Press sports editors from throughout the state made the selections. Jordan led the voting.

Lee Sutter of Celina Immaculate Conception's second-ranked team and Jeff Longaberger and Bill Birkhimer of Dresden Jefferson will show their All-Ohio talents in the state title tourney this weekend. Sutter was named to the first team, the Dresden boys to the second.

Here's how they finished in the statewide voting:

Coaches Optimistic

Semifinals Set In NCAA Classic

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cazzie Russell has a tender ankle, Duke had a minor plane mishap, UCLA is fighting the drums and Kansas State is a longshot. All of which, the various coaches say, means practically nothing.

The four coaches with teams in tonight's NCAA basketball championship semifinals outlined their troubles after brief workouts Thursday, then confidently repeated their vows of optimism.

Each of the quartet — John Wooden of UCLA, Dave Strack of Michigan, Vic Bubas of Duke and Tex Winter of Kansas State — said he felt his team had a legitimate shot at the championship none of them has ever won before.

The line-up has Atlantic Coast Conference champion Duke, 25-4, playing Big Ten co-champion Michigan, 22-4, in the opener. Top-ranked UCLA, 28-0, takes on Big Eight champion Kansas State, 22-5, in the second game. The winners meet Saturday for the title.

UCLA finished the regular season with the ranking of the nation's No. 1 college basketball team. Michigan was second and Duke third. Kansas State, which had upset Wichita in the Midwest regionals to gain the semifinals, was unranked.

"Since we're playing in our area, it figures that we're going to have a lot of Kansas State supporters on hand," Winter observed. "And there may be an advantage in playing here. We play here three times each year and our boys like to play in Kansas City. Maybe those are advantages. If they are, we'll take 'em. We need all the help we can get."

Kansas State, beaten 78-75 by semifinal opponent UCLA in the regular season, has won 13 straight. It features a zone defense, built around 7-foot Roger Suttner, and the scoring and rebounding of Willie Murrell.

Wooden discounted any pressures that may have been built up in an undefeated season and the No. 1 ranking, but admitted "we were fortunate to get through the regionals. There was a letdown after finishing the regular season. I don't think it will happen here, but it's possible."

The mighty Bruins have a blistering running attack, featuring the backcourt pair of Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich and a disturbing zone press. They're the shortest team in the tourney, with no starter over 6-foot-5.

Duke was shaken up a bit when its charter plane skidded off a rain-slick runway just after landing at the Kansas City Airport. There were no injuries and less than an hour later the team was taking part in a closed workout at Municipal Auditorium.

"There's no reason it should have any effect," Bubas said. "No one was hurt. We just skidded off the runway."

The ACC champs, like UCLA, offer a fast-break offense and have good rebounding in a couple of 6-foot-10 operatives, Jay Buckley and Hack Tison. Backcourt ace Jeff Mullins is the team quarterback and top scorer with a 24.4 average.

Russell, Michigan's sophomore backcourt sensation, still is nursing his right ankle, injured in Big Ten play, Strack said.

"He limps on it until he's caught up in the game," Strack said. "It's a handicap, but he will be able to go at near full capacity. Let's say he'll start."

Physically, Michigan is the strongest team in the tourney, has excellent rebounding from two husky 6-foot-7 front line men, Bill Buntin and Oliver Darden.

Chamberlain Snares 5th Scoring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the Big Dipper of the San Francisco Warriors, won the individual scoring championship of the National Basketball Association for the fifth straight year, but with his lowest average ever—36.9 points per game.

Official statistics released today for the 80-game regular season that ended Wednesday night show the 7-foot-1 former Kansas All-America scored 2,948 points on 1,204 field goals and 540 free throws for his 36.9 average.

These figures compare with his 44.8 average on 3,586 points last season and the all-time NBA record of 50.4 on 4,029 points that he set in 1962. He played in 80 games both of these seasons.

Oscar Robertson, the Big O of the Cincinnati Royals, finished second to Chamberlain in the scoring race with 2,480 points for an average of 31.4 in 79 games. Veteran Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks was third with 2,190 followed by Walt Bellamy of the Baltimore Bullets at 2,159 and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers at 2,159.

West's average is higher than Pettit's and Bellamy's since he played in only 72 games. He is placed fifth, however, since his 2,064 points are less than Pettit's 2,190 and Bellamy's 2,159. The latter two played the full 80 games.

CHICAGO (AP) — George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, said in a speech at Chicago that a new method is needed for selecting political candidates.

Washburn Hurls Three As Cards Defeat Reds

By JIM BECKER
"If Ray Washburn is sound," the Cardinals' hopes began to look up. Washburn struck out four in a three-inning stint and St. Louis went on to a 3-2 victory.

Washburn is the big, young right-hander who won his first five games for St. Louis last season, and then came down with arm trouble. He never won another and spent most of the season in the minors.

He tested the arm for the first time Thursday against the Cincinnati Reds, and for a while the Cardinals looked like they were going to give the Mets a run for the cellar. Washburn walked the first batter and then gave up three straight hits and two runs.

Then he settled down, and the Cardinals' hopes began to look up. Washburn struck out four in a three-inning stint and St. Louis went on to a 3-2 victory.

That gave the Cardinals a 5-1 record for the spring exhibition season. Two other teams have better records, the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants, who rank with the Cards as preseason favorites for the National League pennant. The Dodgers, yet to lose, won their third game, 5-4 against the Milwaukee Braves. The loss ended a four-game winning streak for the Braves. Willie Davis hit a double and a triple and Lee Walls had three straight singles for the Dodgers, who made 14 hits off Warren Spahn, Tony Cloninger and Phil Niekro.

The Giants made their record 10-1, as they made 15 runs for the second straight day. This time they trimmed the Los Angeles Angels 15-12 and collected 19 hits. Willie McCovey got three and ran his hitting streak to 10 straight. He is batting .520.

Bob Bailey, the expensive young third baseman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, went four-for-four against the New York Yankees, and made it 10 straight hits, too. The big bonus youngster is batting .786. But the Yankees won 2-0, on two first inning runs. Roger Maris drove in one and scored the other on a passed ball.

Marion Coliseum To Be Site

Ohio All-Star Cage Game Approved; Slated June 27

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

After a two-year lapse, Ohio's high school basketball coaches have won NCAA approval of a North-South all-senior all-star game—and it will be held Saturday, June 27, in the Marion Coliseum.

Tom Thatcher of Sulphur Springs, president of the cage mentors, led the fight for resumption of the Yankee-Rebel fray in which the South holds a 3-1 advantage.

Sole sponsorship by the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association, and assurance that profits would go to a college scholarship for a member of the team which wins the state Class AA championship Saturday, were the big items in winning NCAA approval.

The coaches also promised that 10 days of practice would be staged by the two 10-player squads prior to the game, and that $5,000 or more in insurance would be taken out on each boy from the time he leaves home until he returns.

The coaches have divided the state into 16 districts, eight in the south and eight in the north, and the top player from each will appear on the all-star squads. In addition, the co-coaches of each side will pick one player, and the co-managers will pick another to round out the 10-man outfits.

Three boys who won the $100 per year scholarships in previous years are now attending Marshall, Centre and Capital universities. If profits warrant, the scholarship amount, or the number of scholarships, will be increased, Thatcher said at Thursday night's meeting of the board of directors of the Coaches Association.

Dan Baker of Marion Harding and Lee Himmeger of Ayrersville will be co-managers of the all-star contest and the one-day clinic. They also are on a committee with Thatcher, George Heller of Portsmouth and John Cabas of Salem which will select the co-coaches of the annual classic.

Practice sessions will be held at Marion Harding's gymnasium. The clinic was originally planned as a two-day affair but was finally cut to two sessions on all-star day because the oil boom near Marion has upset housing arrangements.

The all-star coaches, one in Class AA and one in Class A for each side, will be picked from the 16 in each class who reached the regional tournaments.

The association laid down one strict rule. It was to the effect that the 20 all-stars be "mothered" at all times by their coaches to prevent outside contacts — especially by college coaches bent on recruiting them.

Personnel of the teams is expected to be announced in a couple of weeks, with each of the 16 districts naming its own representative and alternate.

Paul E. Landis, new high school athletic commissioner, who attended the session, said a referendum would be taken next month which would drastically change the current Class AA and Class A divisions.

GREY-ROCK BALANCED BRAKE LININGS

TOM McCAHILL REPORTS:
"I saw Grey-Rock outperform 18 other leading brands of brake linings in the 1963 Daytona Speedway Tests"
"You wouldn't have believed it. But I saw it happen. The majority of linings couldn't even finish the tests. Some disintegrated like 'soot under a steam hose.' Only three brands had enough stuff left for safe driving at the end of the tests. One was Grey-Rock. Only two brands in the final round made the required decelerations and stayed within the limits of power brake units. One was Grey-Rock."
"The results were conclusive. Grey-Rock walked off with all the honors. NASCAR certified the tests. My job is to let you know about the extra safety you buy when you relime with Grey-Rock Balanced Brake Linings."
"Your Grey-Rock dealer means it when he says — You can't buy a better brake lining to save your life!"

Lucy Finds Nice Girls Finish Last

Lucille Ball isn't going to talk about the recent in-out-and-in again imbroglio she had with CBS, but neither is she denying that the whole affair left a bitter taste in her mouth.

"I thought being a trouper and delivering when you had to deliver counted for some—Hal Humphrey thing, but it doesn't in this business. The kooks who give everybody a bad time seem to do better," Lucy opines.

AS PRESIDENT of Desilu Studios, Lucy had five new series pilot films for sale this year. Her own reputation as a top-ranking comedienne continued to flower. The "Lucy" show consistently stayed in TV's "top 15."

Two of the new pilots, "Hey Teacher" with Dwayne Hickman and "The Donald O'Connor Show," Lucy says, already were sold to sponsors. But it's still a seller's market as far as the networks are concerned, and Lucy's pilots were trampled in the rush of wheeler-dealers pleading for network time.

Apparently Lucy's new deal with CBS for her own series also involves CBS financing for more pilot films. Asked if she will make them, Lucy says, "I don't know. I'll have to wait until the swelling goes down."

FINANCIALLY, Lucy certainly is not hurting. With her own new fat CBS contract, and near-capacity renting of her studios to other TV productions, the Desilu profit statement probably will exceed last year's.

But Lucy wants Desilu to be more than just a collector of residuals and rentals. In her own words, "We've had a nice little comedy factory here, with all different types of comedy shows. And Lucy wants to keep it that way."

She also would like to do more 60-minute specials in the vein of the one Lucy just completed filming with Bob Hope for a CBS airing April 19. It gives her the opportunity to break out of the now-stereotyped format she and Desi Arnaz created for "I Love Lucy" in 1951.

WHEN LUCY RETURNS next fall, her show will be in the old 9 o'clock Monday spot which she and Desi turned into a national habit 13 years ago. After seven years they wound up the most successful run ever on TV, and Danny Thomas moved into their spot from ABC to immediately become a hit just by picking up the audience fallout left by Lucy.

Marshall Field & Co., the big Chicago department store, changed its open Monday night to Tuesday to accommodate "I Love Lucy" fans.

"And remember when the Toledo water department finally figured out why the city's water consumption hit an all-time high at 9:29 every Monday night?" Lucy recalls.

I DO, INDEED. It didn't make the sponsor too happy, but precisely at that point on the clock half of Toledo and every other town was running to the kitchen and bathroom, missing the commercial and putting the biggest strain on a city's water mains since the Great Chicago Fire.

Lucy still laughs over the ever-grouching Bill Frawley and how he never would read the whole script for a show—just the pages he was on.

"As a result," says Lucy, belting out a laugh, "the old bum never knew what the show was about, but he always was telling us the writers were no good."

BEFORE "I Love Lucy" ended, Frawley and Vivian Vance each were getting $10,000 a week, another testimony to the success of the series.

With a track record such as that, it's easy to understand why Lucy is burned at an industry which isn't buying a single one of the five new shows Desilu offered for next season.

"Maybe I'll do another pilot for 1970," says Lucy, as an afterthought. "We'll call it 'Son of Donald O'Connor.'"

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Triumph By Picturing What You Want

Can you imagine yourself not smoking? Try it. Think of imagination, not as make-believe, but as sustained mental imaging. It works! Imagining your goal is a way of establishing a new habit pattern in your mind. Entertainer Dorothy Shay used the mental picturing plan with phenomenal success. The doctor had advised this singer that to stay in good health and good voice, she must stop smoking. This was quite a challenge for four-pack-a-day Shay!

Ida Jean Kain

IN HER USUAL bouncy way, she decided to try something quite extraordinary. Miss Shay had just finished reading a book entitled "Psycho-Cybernetics" by Dr. Maxwell Maltz, which deals with one's self-image. (If you are stuck with the smoking habit, or with the over-eating habit, you see it as part of your concept of yourself.) Cybernetics is a Greek word meaning steersman. You steer your mind toward the goal you want to achieve. Fascinated with the idea of applying the principles of positive picturing to stop smoking, she set out to practice in her imagination.

DOROTHY SHAY applied the technique of visualizing herself going through her whole day serenely, without a cigarette. Each morning she practiced for twenty minutes this "mental movie" and step by step saw herself in her mind's eye, going through her routine.

She started by visualizing herself drinking coffee and reading the newspaper, without a cigarette. She pictured herself talking over the telephone, playing golf, driving the car, and finishing a performance. All without smoking. She practiced this "new performance" mentally for 20 minutes every night and every morning.

Her objective was to stop smoking in three weeks, and she set her mind on that goal. All during this time she faithfully practiced her "mental movie" but if she really wanted a cigarette, she had one. In other words, she did not try to make this a tug-of-war by exerting excess effort. But she continued to practice the imaging, and in this way she could re-assert her goal.

ON THE afternoon of the 21st day, driving into Bowling Green, Ky., she lighted a cigarette. Right out of the blue her pre-set image went into automatic action. She put out the cigarette. That was it. This happened a year and a half ago and she has had no desire to resume smoking. Nor did she gain unwanted pounds. Keeping slim is important to this entertainer. She has found that the ideal way to control her weight and re-charge her energy is to eat small meals at more frequent intervals. She never overeats at any one meal.

A challenge is exciting. Picture to yourself the satisfactions of going through your routine without smoking. Use the plan to hold the weight line or restore your slim good looks. Picturing makes the new habit pattern real to your nervous system. The plan really works!

brush as clean as when new. Be sure to shake out the mixture thoroughly before using the brush again.

Q.—How can I perform a good cleaning job on my enameled woodwork?

A. Try this mixture: One cup of kerosene, one cup of vinegar, and a half-cup of water shaken up in a bottle. Apply this to the woodwork with a soft cloth, then follow up with a dry-cloth polishing.

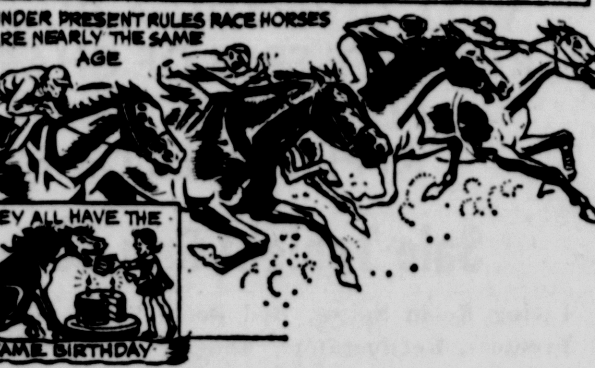

Q.—How can I mend the seal between my bathtub and wall, which has crumbled away and left an unattractive gap?

A. Make your own resealer out of white tile cement. Simply mix it until it forms a paste, and apply.

Q.—How can I do a good job of cleaning hairbrushes?

A. Mix a half-cup of salt and flour in equal proportions, rub it through the bristles of the hairbrush, and it will make the

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSES

QUESTION: Why are all horses' birthdays on January 1?

ANSWER: Our questioner has a wrong impression—the rule about January 1 "birthdays" applies only to race horses, of the breed called Thoroughbred. To understand the reason for this rule, think of a Thoroughbred colt born in May, 1964. Supposing there is a race for two-year olds held in April, of 1967. By that time, our colt will be two years and eleven months old. But there might be another colt racing against him born in March, 1965, and this, although also called a two year old, will be 10 months younger than the first horse, giving the first one a tremendous and unfair advantage of added growth and speed. The whole point about horse racing is to have the animals as evenly matched as possible.

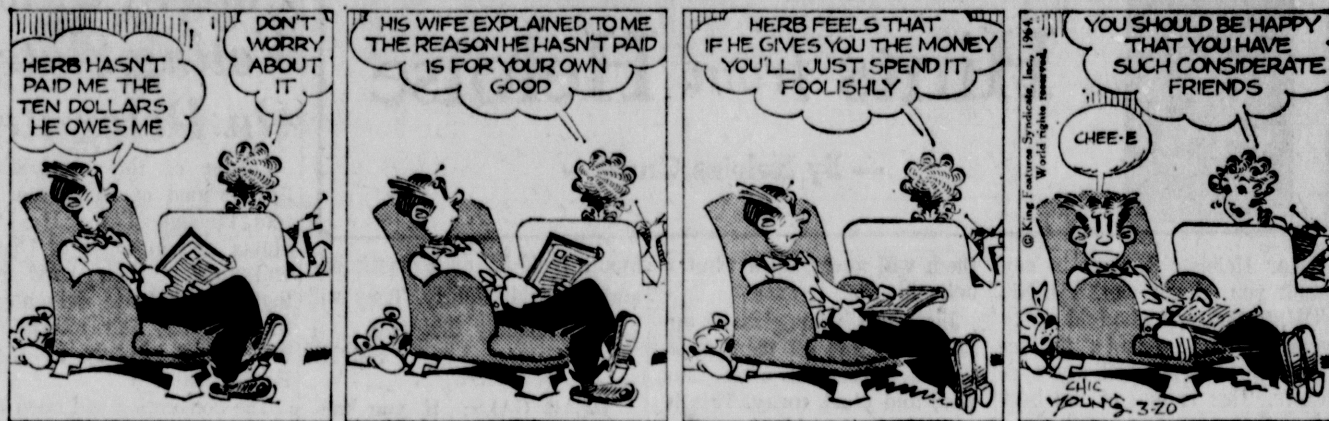

Most race horses are bred so their colts are born between February and June. If you take such a group of colts, according to the present rule, and say their birthdays were all January 1, of the year in which they were born they will be able to race together with only a few months of actual age difference, and this will make for an exciting race.

FOR YOU TO DO: To get this idea firmly in your mind, think of other popular sports where the fun of looking on is increased if the contestants are evenly matched. This is the reason for "one-design" yacht racing, with all boats made alike. Think of other examples.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Heloise: I want to say thank you, thank you, THANK YOU, to the lady who told me to wear my bifocals upside-down when I plucked my eyebrows. This is one of the best hints that ever has come along in your column.

For the gals who wonder what to do with wrinkled potatoes... Throw them all in the sink in cold water and scrub them well. Boil them with the skins on until just done.

Cool and store in a dish in your refrigerator and they are ready for frying, scalloping, making au gratin potatoes, potato salad, or whatever you wish. They have a wonderful flavor besides. They will keep until they are all used.

Do not peel them until ready to use.

GRACE.

Ladies, we just had to repeat the one about bifocals when you pluck your eyebrows. Those who do not wear them will never know what a help this is.

Just turn your glasses upside down and set them a little bit further down on your nose and pluck away. This is also good when lining eyebrows with a pencil.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't you have socks that have lost their mates?

Pin them up by the toes on a large safety pin and hang them on a nail in the closet.

Lost mates have a funny way of showing up sooner or later. Matched socks can then be put back in their proper drawer. I have used this method for years.

A READER.

Laughter For Year

DEAR HELOISE: I have been "through" teen-agers, raised one family and am now raising another. Tell mothers that if the children's untidy bedroom bothers them to just close the door so they can't see it!

You've heard of the expression, "what you don't know won't bother you." Well, after hitting 48, I learned that what I can't see doesn't bother ME! That's the children's problem if they have to "step over" to get to the bed and their radio.

MOMMY-10-TIMES.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep raisins soft after the box has been opened, put the raisins (box and all) inside a wide mouth fruit jar or a plastic bag and fasten it tightly. They will keep beautifully this way.

SMITH.

DEAR GALS: If you happen to have purchased a big, heavy wet mop that you can't wring dry, (I have found after using one recently) that you can divide the strings in two parts and wring each half separately with your small hands. This gets the mop much drier.

Here is the best way I have found to wash a soiled mop: Soak the whole mop in hot suds, divide the strings in half or thirds (depending on the size of the mop) and wash it in divisions. Gets it much cleaner.

And just why do small, tiny women buy these big, thick, heavy mops anyway?

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: To eliminate the "cling" in my slips I give them a very light starching. It works.

MRS. J. F. PENNO.

DEAR HELOISE: I find my curtains the same as I dye other things. And here is my hint:

I put the dye right in my detergent in my washing machine and let it run through the full cycle. Materials come out washed, dyed, rinsed, and best of all, the machine has been cleaned.

MILDRED I.

Pottery Union Voting Slated On Delegates

Locals of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery throughout the United States and in parts of Canada will vote at their April meetings to nominate delegates to the union's 70th international convention in July at Long Beach, Calif.

The convention will open Monday, July 6, at the Lafayette Hotel in the west coast city.

Wheatley Endorses Cancer Fund Appeal

E. L. Wheatley, president, today pledged the "whole-hearted support" of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery in the annual fund drive of the American Cancer Society, which will open April 1.

In a letter to George M. Leader of New York City, national chairman of the drive, Wheatley said IBOP members will be "urged to give generously so that the society can continue to be a vital force in the fight against cancer."

under the official call issued Feb. 20 by Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer.

Constitutional regulations governing election of delegates were published today in the union's official newspaper, The Potters Herald.

It provides delegates will be nominated three months prior to the convention, with the election in the following month. The election may be held "at any one stated meeting in May."

Local unions are entitled to one delegate for the first 50 members or less. A second delegate is permitted for the next 50 members or major fraction. Every additional 100 members or major fraction entitles a local to another delegate.

Resolutions related to changes in the international constitution must be submitted to President E. L. Wheatley and published in the union newspaper at least 60 days in advance of the convention.

All other resolutions must be submitted to the IBOP headquarters not later than May 1.
